

OWEN INDORSES PLAN TO HANDLE COTTON EXPORTS

Proposed Corporation Means
Better Price, He Says.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—Formation of a cotton-growers' export association under authority of the Webb act for the purpose of facilitating the handling and sale of cotton both in this country and abroad, was recommended by Senator Owen of Oklahoma, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, in a speech here today before the conference of planters, bankers and business men from cotton-growing states. Such an organization, he said, not only would enable growers to obtain a better price for their products, but would also give stability to the market.

Studied Conditions in Europe. Senator Owen recently returned from a two months' trip to Europe, spent in studying financial and economic conditions abroad, as well as the commercial possibilities growing out of establishment of peace.

The great possibilities which would come from an export corporation were described by Senator Owen, who said with a capital of $50,000,000 it would provide systematically and cheaply transportation as well as better storage facilities as well as economical costs than can be secured by the small shipper.

Would Control Export.

"Such a corporation," Senator Owen continued, "could, if necessary, withhold its cotton from the market so as to supply only the actual needs of the market. Such a corporation would not be forced to sell its cotton because of any temporary slack in demand. Above all, such a corporation controlling a very large volume of cotton, would be in a position to command the attention of the market world."

"It is quite clear," the speaker said, "as far as the producers are concerned, that when they are competing with each other everywhere in selling their cotton, when the cotton is being piled up in excess of the capacity of the yards and when it is in excess of the facilities arranged for transportation, the cotton cannot be expected to bring what would be a fair price if these obstructions were removed."

Better Price Probable.

"Such a corporation could meet these obstructions and bring to the producer a better price, give stability to the market and prevent wide fluctuations in prices due to avoidable factors. The result of this would be a benefit to the merchants who buy the cotton of a producer in the market. It would benefit the banker, who will find in cotton a more stable basis of credit. It would benefit the cotton lover, because his business will have a new measure of stability without the element of violent fluctuations—always an element of danger, as well as sometimes furnishing an opportunity of profit."

Pretty, Wavy, Curling Hair Without Hot Iron

Let me tell you of a simple method which is a favorite for the holder of a certain exclusive social set. I'm sure you would like to know of it, because it will give your hair such a pretty curliness and lustre and permit you to do away with the ruinous waving iron forever.

Just get from any druggist a few ounces of ordinary liquid salicylic acid, and at night apply a little with a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair. In the morning you will have a real surprise, the fascinating, fluffy, wavy effect will appear so natural, and there will be no greasy, gummy, sticky or other unpleasant trace of this harmless liquid. You will also find this a splendid dressing for the hair. (Adv.)

SHAFFER FILES INCOME REPORT

Oil Operator, However, Protests
State Payment.

Another legal battle by the state to collect the state income tax on property of C. B. Shaffer, wealthy Chicago oil operator and capitalist, was shadowed this morning when Shaffer filed under protest his 1918 tax return report with Frank Carter, state auditor.

Another legal battle by the state to quire by state laws, Shaffer stated he did so under protest, and denied any right of the state to collect the tax, basing his protest on the fact that he is a non-resident of Oklahoma, and that his property in this state is managed from his Chicago office.

The amount of tax due from Shaffer for the 1918 year was not disclosed, the law requiring that income tax returns shall not be made public.

Only recently the supreme court of the United States dismissed Shaffer's case protesting against the 1916-17 tax, and he has been notified by Auditor Carter that unless this is paid by April 15 the state will issue a tax warrant upon his property here.

JAPANESE SLAY KOREANS, REPORT

U. S. Consul Protests About
Arming Civilians.

(By The Associated Press.)

PEKING, Thursday, April 3.—More than twenty Korean demonstrations occurred in the vicinity of Seoul on March 27, according to the Korean Daily News, copies of which have arrived here. It is said the Japanese soldiers attacked the crowds with guns, swords and bayonets and that many Koreans were killed. Three Japanese are reported to have been injured.

It is declared the Japanese authorities are unable to deal with the situation arising from demonstrations being held in so many different towns.

(By The Associated Press.)

SEUL, Friday, April 4.—Leo A. Bergholz, of the American consulate here, has made inquiries of the Korean governor-general relative to the appearance on the streets of Japanese civilians armed with heavy clubs, suggesting that such practice might be dangerous to the lives of foreigners. He declared that if the armed civilians were attached to the police force, they should be so designated and that if they were not, the practice should be abandoned, and expressed the fear that if such action were not taken foreigners might adopt measures for self-protection, which might bring about an undesirable situation.

In his reply the governor-general admitted that the Japanese were armed, but said they had done so to protect themselves against Koreans. He said that the civilians were not attached to the police force, but gave assurance that he would do his best to prevent abuse of the practice.
